

It certainly would be nice if our local news stations used closed captioning during the "Live" reports and during the weather reports. If these were captioned, I would not miss pertinent information and would not have to rely on my hearing husband to tell me the news.